Yes is the stool collection for projects where design should remain clean and timeless while delivering lasting performance in professional environments. With its straightforward look, the model blends effortlessly into almost any restaurant, café or hotel interior. Available as a stool, counter stool and bar stool, Yes creates a cohesive setup from lounge areas to counters. Yes also offers plenty of design flexibility when it comes to frame finishes: choose from matt brushed stainless steel or powder-coated steel in black or satin silver. All three versions are robust and easy to maintain for everyday use. The upholstered seat cushion adds extra comfort and can be customised to suit your project with a wide selection of colours and materials from the fabric collection.

• Three heights, one look: stool, counter stool and bar stool for a consistent interior concept
• Three frame finishes: matt brushed stainless steel or powder-coated steel in black and satin silver – robust and easy to maintain
• Upholstery tailored to your project: seat cushion available in a wide range of fabrics and colours for a personalised design
